This Licence Agreement is between the International Electrotechnical Commission (IEC) and the named customer(?) (hereafter referred to as "YOU")

Any information downloaded from an IEC database is subject to the following:

1. All information in the database is copyrighted by: IEC, 3, rue de Varembé, P.O. Box 131, 1211 Geneva 20, Switzerland. All rights reserved. In all countries, there are civil and/or criminal laws against copyright infringements. By downloading, copying, installing, accessing or otherwise using IEC data YOU agree to be bound by the terms of this Licence Agreement.

2. YOU are responsible for ensuring that the terms and conditions of this licence agreement are adhered to fully.
3. All access to database format standards are recorded by the system and log files are created by username and domain information. All usernames and passwords should remain confidential; networking is not permitted for the standards in database format without the prior written permission of IEC.

4. This Licence does not grant YOU any rights in any trademarks or service marks of IEC.

5. You are permitted only to store the total content of the database on the local drive of the number of Personal Computers registered in the agreement with the IEC with access only the personal use of their users. No local area network, wide area network, intranet or internet storage and access is permitted without the prior written permission of IEC.

6. You may print out only one paper copy of the database. No paper copy may be photocopied or reproduced in any way and may only be borrowed by other employees for their internal use within your organization. Additional paper copies may only be made with prior explicit, written permission of the IEC.

7. YOU may not sell, lend, lease, reproduce, distribute or otherwise exploit, whether commercially or not, the total database to which this Licence relates.

8. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Licence, YOU are permitted to distribute freely to a third party on any medium any of the items such as identification numbers or codes from the database in the application of the database standard.

9. Where explicitly stated in the documentation accompanying the database, YOU are further permitted to distribute freely to a third party on any medium those elements, such as symbols and type or grade designations that are relevant to the use of a product or product description as explicitly stated in that standard or database.

10. Without prejudice to any other rights, IEC may terminate this Licence if you fail to comply with the terms and conditions of this Licence. In such event, YOU must delete the IEC Publication(s) and destroy all paper and electronic copies immediately.

11. This Agreement is governed by the Laws of Switzerland and the courts of Geneva, Switzerland, shall be the forum for the settlement of disputes. IEC expressly reserves the right to take legal action against YOU or otherwise to enforce its rights according to Swiss or local laws in your country of domicile or in any jurisdiction where a breach of this Agreement or an infringement of residence rights may occur or may have had effect.

By clicking on the “I Agree” button, YOU are entering into the terms of this Licence Agreement.

1 Specific clauses for IEC 60417

1. YOU are permitted to use any of the symbols from the database, including their graphical representations and their names, on any equipment to identify functions, performance, etc. of that equipment to include markings on the equipment, on controls and displays whether as permanent marks or as screen displays.

2. YOU are further permitted to use any of the symbols from the database in any documentation, whether in hard copy or electronic form, that accompanies the equipment whether for purposes of design, manufacture, sales, installation, maintenance or disposal.
2 Specific clauses for IEC 60617

1. YOU are permitted to use any of the symbols from the database, including their graphical representations and their names, in producing diagrams that describe the construction and interconnection of electronic systems. These diagrams may or may not be associated with any specific or actual equipment and may be included in publications offered for sale. YOU are also permitted to use the symbols from the database in any legends, indexes or keys associated with such diagrams.

2. YOU are not permitted to sell, lend, lease, reproduce, distribute or otherwise exploit, whether commercially or not the whole of the database or a substantial part of it without the express permission of the IEC. This restriction may pose a problem for CAD system vendors who supply electronic libraries of symbols.

1. YOU are permitted to use any of the class, property or condition definitions from the database in producing descriptions of electric/electronic components or systems

2. YOU are not permitted to sell, lend, lease, reproduce, distribute or otherwise exploit, whether commercially or not the whole of the database or a substantial part of it without the express permission of the IEC.
If you order electronic versions of IEC publications, you will be subject to the following Licence, which is a legal agreement. Please read the Licence carefully before you commit to making your purchase. 1. The IEC Publication(s) YOU are about to order and download from the IEC Webstore are Portable Document Format (PDF) files or on-line database format and are copyrighted by: IEC, 3, rue de Varembé, P.O. Box 131, 1211 Geneva 20, Switzerland. All rights reserved. In all countries, there are civil and/or criminal laws against copyright infringements. By downloading, copying, installing, accessing or otherwise using IEC Publication(s) YOU agree to be bound by the terms of this Licence Agreement.

2. As the named customer in the IEC Webstore Order, YOU are responsible for ensuring that the terms and conditions of this licence agreement are adhered to fully.

3. The IEC Publication(s) in Portable Document Format (PDF) will be electronically watermarked with the customer name, company, order number and number of users who can use the file (see Clause 5). This information must not be removed. IEC reserves the right to take additional measures to protect the electronic PDF files which may not be apparent to the Customer.

4. All access to database format standards are recorded by system and log files are created by username and domain information, all usernames and passwords should remain confidential, networking is not permitted for the database format standards without the prior written permission of IEC.

5. You are permitted only to store the IEC Publication(s) on the local drive of your own Personal Computer with access only for your personal use. No local area network, wide area network, intranet or internet storage and access is permitted without the prior written permission of IEC.

6. You may print out only one paper copy of the IEC Publication(s).

7. If the Webstore Order details more than one user for the IEC Publication(s), then the named customer may make one electronic copy each for the number of users specified in the IEC Webstore Order. Any copies of the IEC Publication(s) must be stored exclusively on the local drive of the Personal Computers of the other users. No local area network, wide area network, intranet or internet storage and access is permitted without the prior written permission of IEC.

8. YOU as the named customer can make one paper copy of each IEC Publication(s) for each user specified in the IEC Webstore Order. No paper copy may be photocopied or reproduced in any way and may only be borrowed by other employees for their internal use within your organization. Additional paper copies may only be made with prior explicit, written permission of the IEC.

9. YOU may not lend, lease, reproduce, distribute or otherwise exploit, whether commercially or not, the IEC Publication(s) to which this Licence relates.
10. This Licence does not grant YOU any rights in any trademarks or service marks of IEC.

11. Without prejudice to any other rights, IEC may terminate this Licence if you fail to comply with the terms and conditions of this Licence. In such event, YOU must delete the IEC Publication(s) and destroy all paper and electronic copies immediately.

12. This Agreement is governed by the Laws of Switzerland and the courts of Geneva, Switzerland, shall be the forum for the settlement of disputes. IEC expressly reserves the right to take legal action against YOU or otherwise to enforce its rights according to Swiss or local laws in your country of domicile or in any jurisdiction where a breach of this Agreement or an infringement of residence rights may occur or may have had effect.

By clicking on the “I Agree” button, YOU are entering into the terms of this Licence Agreement.
