IEC 61360
The current IEC license statement prohibits the professional use of IEC 61360 properties.

It focuses on traditional standards and does not support the use of properties retrieved from the IEC database in areas such as engineering, administration, procurement & sales, or documentation.
IEC license statement – Restrictions on storage

4. All access to database format standards are recorded by system and log files are created by username and domain information, all usernames and passwords should remain confidential; networking is not permitted for the database format standards without the prior written permission of IEC.

5. You are permitted only to store the IEC Publication(s) on the local drive of your own Personal Computer with access only for your personal use. No local area network, wide area network, intranet or internet storage and access is permitted without the prior written permission of IEC.

Industry practice requires storage of individual properties and complete property libraries in CAD tools, ERP systems, or other company internal databases. Networks are almost always involved.
7. If the Webstore Order details more than one user for the IEC Publication(s), then the named customer may make one electronic copy each for the number of users specified in the IEC Webstore Order. Any copies of the IEC Publication(s) must be stored exclusively on the local drive of the Personal Computers of the other users. No local area network, wide area network, intranet or internet storage and access is permitted without the prior written permission of IEC.

Industry practice requires unlimited use and dissemination of individual properties and property libraries across the enterprise and between enterprises.

NOTE Using a property almost always implies the creation of various electronic copies that are stored permanently on local and/or remote drives.
11. Without prejudice to any other rights, IEC may terminate this Licence if you fail to comply with the terms and conditions of this Licence. In such event, YOU must delete the IEC Publication(s) and destroy all paper and electronic copies immediately.

To protect customers, industry practice requires that the use of properties is irrevocably free. Otherwise customers might face copyright infringements when the licence policy of IEC changes.
Copyright issues

US: Joint Work – For copyright purposes, a collaboration between two or more authors in which their contributions are joined into a single cohesive work. Each author of a joint work has equal rights to register and enforce the copyright, regardless of how their shares in the work are divided.

Switzerland: Miturheberschaft – Urheberrechtsgesetz, URG, Art. 7
1 Haben mehrere Personen als Urheber oder Urheberinnen an der Schaffung eines Werks mitgewirkt, so steht ihnen das Urheberrecht gemeinschaftlich zu.
2 Haben sie nichts anderes vereinbart, so können sie das Werk nur mit Zustimmung aller verwenden; die Zustimmung darf nicht wider Treu und Glauben verweigert werden.

No Joint Work shall be created between IEC and the user of a property, when using or referencing a property in a work. So the work that contains or references IEC properties shall be irrevocably free from IEC copyright claims.
Current IEC license agreement (2007-11)

The text in black is the original text of an IEC license agreement. The proposed additions are added at the end and marked in red. (fill might finally be better placed close to another clause. Finally the text used by B.V. is included for information)

1. If you order electronic versions of IEC publications, you will be subject to the following license, which is a legal agreement. Please read this license carefully before you commit to making your purchase.

2. If you have any difficulties concerning the terms of this License Agreement or if you have any questions regarding IEC copyright, please contact:

   This License Agreement is between the International Electrotechnical Commission (IEC) and the named customer. This IEC Webstore Order (hereafter referred to as “YOU”)
   1. The IEC Electronic Publication(s) contained in this IEC Webstore Order (IEC Publications) are subject to the following:

   a. The IEC Publication(s) YOU are about to order and download from the IEC Webstore are Portable Document Format (PDF) files or online database format and are copyrighted by IEC, 3, rue de Varembo, P.O. Box 131, 1211 Geneva 20, Switzerland. All rights reserved. In all countries, there are civil and/or criminal laws against copyright infringements. By downloading, copying, installing, accessing or otherwise using IEC Publication(s), YOU agree to be bound by the terms of this License Agreement.

   b. As the named customer, in the IEC Webstore Order, YOU are responsible for ensuring that the terms and conditions of the license agreement are adhered to fully.

   c. The IEC Publication(s) in Portable Document Format (PDF) will be electronically accessible only with the username and password. Each document contains a unique user ID number which correlates to the IEC Publication(s) you are authorized to access. Unauthorized access to your IEC Publication(s) is strictly prohibited.

   d. Access to database format standards are recorded by system and log files created by the IEC Webstore system. Access information is audited for IEC Publication(s) which may be apparent to the IEC.

   e. All access to database format standards are recorded by system and log files created by the IEC Webstore system. Access information is audited for IEC Publication(s) which may be apparent to the IEC.

   f. You are permitted to store the IEC Publication(s) on the local drive of your own Personal Computer with access only for your personal use. No local area network, wide area network, internet or Internet storage and access is permitted without the prior written permission of IEC.

   g. You may print out only one paper copy of the IEC Publication(s) if:

   i. The Webstore Order details more than one user for the IEC Publication(s), then the named customer may make one electronic copy each for the number of users specified in the IEC Webstore Order. Any copies of the IEC Publication(s) must be stored exclusively on the local drive of the Personal Computers of the other users. No local area network, wide area network, internet or Internet storage and access is permitted without the prior written permission of IEC.

   h. YOU as the named customer can make one paper copy of each IEC Publication(s) for each user specified in the IEC Webstore Order. No paper copy may be photocopied or reproduced in any way and may only be borrowed by other employees for their internal use within your organization. Additional paper copies may only be made with prior explicit, written permission of the IEC.

   i. YOU may not lend, lease, reproduce, distribute or otherwise exploit, whether commercially or not, the IEC Publication(s) to which this licence relates.

   j. This License does not grant YOU any rights in any trademarks or service marks of IEC.

   k. Without prejudice to any other rights, IEC may terminate this License if you fail to comply with the terms and conditions of this License. In such event, YOU must delete the IEC Publication(s) and destroy all paper and electronic copies immediately.

   l. This Agreement is governed by the Laws of Switzerland and the courts of Geneva, Switzerland, shall be the forum for the settlement of disputes. IEC expressly reserves the right to take legal action against YOU or otherwise to enforce its rights according to Swiss or local laws in your country of domicile or in any jurisdiction where a breach of this Agreement or any infringement of residence rights may occur or may have had effect.

   m. By clicking on the “I Agree” button, YOU are entering into the terms of this License Agreement.
